This conference aims at bringing together functional analysts, mathematical physicists, experts of dynamical systems, and probabilists who have research interests in graph theory, networks, complex systems, and/or random walks. Applied scientists with an interest in said fields are also warmly welcome.

The conference will be tentatively organized in four daily sessions on

- Theory and spectral applications of random matrices
- Point models and systems of ordinary differential equations
- Spatial models and parabolic equations on networks
- Structure and dynamics of complex networks

Already confirmed participants include

- Riccardo Adami (Politecnico, Torino)
- Felix Ali Mehmeti (Valenciennes)
- Ram Band (Technion, Haifa)
- Philippe Blanchard (Bielefeld)
- Jens Bolte (Royal Holloway, London)
- Gianfausto Dell'Antonio (SISSA, Trieste)
- Pavel Kurasov (Stockholm University)
- Annemarie Luger (Stockholm University)
- Svetlana Pastukhova (Moscow State University)
- Matteo Polettini (Luxembourg)
